BAULDERSTONE

15 February 2010

To Whom It May Concern:

I was the Project Engineer for Boulderstone at 20 Hindmarsh Square, an $80 million hotel and apartment building complex in the Adelaide CBD.

Part of my duties on this project was to manage the façade works on both buildings. Paint Professionals had the contract to carry out all painting works to both facades, and I worked extensively with Martin Penney and his team for several months throughout the duration of project.

Martin was a pleasure to work with at all times during the project. He showed great commitment to the project on all levels in particular programme, safety and quality.

Throughout the project works we encountered several constructability issues (for example access) that needed to be overcome. Martin was extremely proactive in working together with us to find a solution, a very important point and something that was very much appreciated.

Martin always showed a great level of respect not only to myself but also to his employees, and displayed very good leadership skills to his team.

Martin always made himself available when required on site and made sure every effort was made to meet our safety and quality standards.

In my opinion, working with Martin has been a very positive experience and I look forward to working with him in the future.

Regards,

Chris Callaghan
